

Cesca is a novelist and screenwriter.

She writes creepy suspense based on real life mysteries under the name C.D.Major. She also writes uplifting, feel-good reads under the pseudonym Rosie Blake and her books have been published in 10 countries . Having worked in television as a presenter Cesca enjoys live events and festivals. She regularly vlogs writing tips and teaches creative writing at the Henley School of Art.

Wendy is editor of Sunflower Publishing.

Her expertise is self-publishing, social media marketing and business planning. She has launched client novels in various formats such as e-books and paperbacks and is now working on the production of audio books. She has a sound background of financial and business administration and for many years, she taught English at a language school in Pescara, to teenagers and adults.